

Coppernic Partners with HMD to Deliver Enterprise Mobile Devices that ‘Transform’ to meet your Use Case

A continuing focus on End User Satisfaction.

Aix-en-Provence, France. Sept 5th, 2024 – Coppernic, a leader in innovative mobile technology solutions, proudly announces its partnership with Human Mobile Devices (HMD). Coppernic will develop and deliver specific ‘outfits’ which will transform the recently announced HMD Fusion Business Edition mobile phone according to different use cases. The first available Coppernic Outfit will incorporate a 2D Barcode imager, enabling Retail Point-of-Sale, Ticket Inspection, Courier Delivery and similar applications. It will be released and available in Q4 2024.

“Coppernic takes leading-edge mobile technology and then adapts it for difficult use cases that are not ideally served by a typical mobile phone,” said Kevin LECUIVRE, CEO of Coppernic. “The focus is always making mobile users as effective and efficient as possible. With our years of experience, Coppernic understands the critical success factors for mobile workers.”

Marc PIEPERS, Coppernic’s Managing Director and CTO added the following. “The synergies in the HMD / Coppernic partnership were immediately apparent, and it all starts with the human-centric approach. Both companies exist to focus on user happiness. By making our devices easy to use, problem-free and long-lasting, we make mobile workers better at their jobs. With HMD focusing on the innovations around core mobile technology, and Coppernic’s deep expertise in adapting it for very specific applications, the end result is a strong product portfolio that benefits our customers.”

Senior Vice President for Enterprise at HMD, James Robinson, said: “Our business customers matter to us, and we work closely with them to ensure our devices meet their needs. We’re thrilled with the strong partnership we have in place with Coppernic for this launch. It has allowed us to tailor and mould the Fusion Business Edition into a smartphone which will become a must-have in the workplace.”

The HMD Fusion Business Edition is ideal for enterprise applications, featuring 5G and the latest Android operating system with up to 5 years of security updates. HMD and Coppernic are both proud European-based brands with ongoing commitments to sustainability. Our products are designed for long life cycles, with quality, durability and repairability built in. For additional information, please visit <https://www.coppernic.fr/en/hmd-coppernic> or contact us directly.

About Coppernic:

Coppernic designs, produces, and deploys professional-grade handheld devices for use with control and traceability applications including Public Transportation Ticketing, Mobile Biometric Identification, Mobile Access Control and the Traceability of Goods & Materials. We have successfully deployed and supported mobile device systems ranging from 1 to over 10,000 devices in a wide variety of markets. We provide comprehensive support packages and expertise in mobile security, data connectivity, mobile device management and analytics.

More info about Coppernic on www.coppernic.fr

Press contact COPPERNIC

Rob VANDERVECHT

Chief Marketing Officer

rob.vandervecht-ext@coppernic.com

+1 647 549-8846